Freedom Preparatory Academy provide a traditional, back-to-basics environment by limiting class size to 25 students, instituting a dress code policy, and asking parents to voluntarily commit to 40 hours of school service per school year.

Freedom Prep has a long history of accolades. From business to academics to sports and more, success is our goal. In 2010, Freedom Preparatory Academy was named Charter School of the Year, and in 2011, Director Lynne Herring was named Charter School Administrator of the Year. Our business administrator, Chris Helvey, was named the 2014 Utah Charter School Business Manager of the Year. The Ballroom team and Girls volleyball team have back to back state championships, Doodle Google finalists, Regional Science Fair champions and so much more!

The school is governed by a seven-member Governing Board; these board members are elected by Freedom Preparatory Academy parents. Freedom Preparatory Academy's daily operations are run by a Director who reports to the board. Parent volunteers work primarily through a Parent Teacher Organization (PTO) or Parent Volunteer Council.

For the elementary schools, Freedom Preparatory Academy uses the highly acclaimed, academically rigorous Core Knowledge Sequence, Saxon Math, Leader In Me and Spalding Language Arts. Other subjects include art, music, physical education, library and computer lab time.

For secondary students curriculum includes Latin, French, Chinese, Digital media, Information Technology, Video Production, Engineering Design, Physical Education, etc. Certified teachers with extensive training implement these curricula. Several extracurricular activities are offered at Freedom Prep. Some of these are National Honor Society, cross country, track, co-ed soccer, basketball, volleyball, and cheerleading. Additionally, Freedom Preparatory Academy has after school classes and a robust student council program for all ages.
